

Becoming a Volunteer Driver

Want to help your community?

Being one of our network of Volunteer Drivers is a flexible and rewarding way to volunteer. It can fit around other commitments and connects you with people throughout your community whilst providing a lifeline to those without transport.

Give as much or as little time as you like, every journey you can help us with will make a real difference.

We will give you training in driving with passengers' wellbeing in mind, and in safeguarding vulnerable people and we will reimburse all your mileage and other reasonable expenses.

For an informal, commitment free, chat about joining our network of Volunteer Drivers please call:

Unable to get where you want to?

Volunteer Cornwall's network of drivers are available for essential journeys which cannot be made by public transport.

We do ask that the Volunteer Drivers' mileage expenses are paid as this is a small contribution to the costs of operating the scheme.

Our network of drivers are thoroughly vetted through references and DBS checks and their driving assessed using a nationally recognised accreditation.

Our network of drivers can help individuals in need of transport help, or organisations with more than one passenger.
